

SINGING HYMNS FOR JESUS

(A poem written by Leonard Sweet)

In a world of doomsayers, be a doomslayer.

- To those who feel doomed by crumbling towers, the doomslayer sings, "How Firm a Foundation".
- To those who feel doomed by lost moorings, the doomslayer sings, "The Anchor Holds, the Grips the Solid Rock".
- To those who feel doomed by lost bearings, the doomslayer sings, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us".
- To those who feel doomed by lost faith, the doomslayer sings, "Jesus loves me! This I know".
- To those who feel doomed by lost trust, the doomslayer sings, "'Tis so sweet, to trust in Jesus."
- To those who feel doomed by lost riches, the doomslayer sings, "I've got a mansion, just over the hilltop."
- To those who feel doomed by lost friends, the doomslayer sings, "What a friend we have in Jesus."
- To those who feel doomed after having lost faith in other people and other Christians, the doomslayer sings, "O How I Love Jesus."
- To those who feel doomed by lost confidence, the doomslayer sings, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee".
- To those who feel doomed by a lost sense of God's presence, the doomslayer sings, "Revive us Again".
- To those who feel doomed by a lost holiness, the doomslayer sings, "There's a wideness in God's mercy".
- To those who feel doomed by lost joy, the doomslayer sings, "Joy to the world".
- To those who feel doomed and curse the darkness, the doomslayer lights a candle of hope and sings, "Jesus the Light of the World".
- To those who feel doomed by a lost endurance, the doomslayer sings, "Great is Thy Faithfulness".
- To those who feel doomed by lost health, the doomslayer sings, "He touched me".
- To those who feel doomed by lost courage, the doomslayer sings, "Standing on the promises."
- To those who feel doomed by the lost loved ones, the doomslayer sings, "Christ the Lord is risen today."
- To those who feel doomed by a lust for revenge and retribution, the doomslayer sings, "Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus".